

help the children Capital Campaign

35 years ago, Daybreak Youth Services was founded on a calling: Help the Children. Today, Daybreak is the largest provider of inpatient and outpatient treatment for youth in Washington State, but our current capacity is not enough to meet the need. Right now, more than 10,000 adolescents are struggling with co-occurring addiction and mental health issues; yet statewide, there are only 220 treatment beds to serve them.

We can do better than this. And with your help, we will.

Please join us for our capital campaign soft launch as we celebrate local philanthropy and encourage even greater support to help reach our local goal of raising $2M for youth in Clark County.
